Saving Lake Naivasha
0 ratings
From: NTVKenya | February 25, 2010 | 331 views http://www.ntv.co.ke The survival of Lake Naivasha has come under scrutiny in the last few days following the mysterious deaths of thousands of fish in the Lake. The lake has been struggling to survive in the last decade due to intense pressure from human activities. Water levels at the lake have receded by at least two kilometers and as Rita Tinina reports, experts say it is not too late to save the Lake.
